Link Construction Group completed the new Snake Creek Trail for Miami-Dade County Parks. The new mini park is located at NW 7 Avenue/NW 202 Street and NW 12 Avenue/NW 202 Terrace. The 5.4-mile contiguous greenway corridor winds through the residential areas of the City of North Miami Beach, unincorporated Miami-Dade County and the City of Miami Gardens.

The Miami-Dade County Parks, Recreation and Open Spaces Department (MDPROS) and Miami-Dade County Commissioners Sally A. Heyman (District 4) and Barbara J. Jordan (District 1) hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially open the new Snake Creek Trail.

Miller Construction Company completed a new, environmentally friendly 35,000-sq. ft. Ashley Furniture HomeStore showroom at 2101 Palm Beach Lakes Blvd., West Palm Beach. Built to achieve LEED certification, the store features high-efficiency climate control, lighting, plumbing and irrigation systems. Miller ensured the new showroom will save energy and conserve water with features including a reflective roof coating, a super-high-efficiency air conditioning system, and expanses of low-emitting glass. More than 90 percent of the store’s hundreds of light bulbs are LED bulbs.

Q. What insurance information do I need to get from my vendors to make sure that I am properly covered?

A. That's a good question. Generally, contractors request a certificate of insurance from their vendors. This alone may or may not be sufficient. A certificate of insurance will generally list the types and limits of coverage but will not list any types of exclusions or other possibly critical information. It would be prudent to request a copy of the declarations page from your vendor. The declarations page should list any exclusions that may apply to a particular project.

Often the exclusions will be listed by a numerical insurance industry code which means nothing to a laymen, but a list of codes can be found on-line or obtained from your insurance agent/provider.

Over the years I have run into one particularly precarious exclusion known as a Classification Limitation Endorsement. Calling it an endorsement makes it sound like a good thing, but it is an exclusion. What it means is any that any damages arising from work outside of the insured's classification are excluded from coverage.

As you know, when a party goes to get insurance, they fill out an application. In that application one lists the type of work they will perform. Based on that information, the insurer will assign a classification code for the reported scope and base their premiums upon that information. As the premium amount is at least partially derived from the different classifications, it is not unusual for someone to "undersell" their scope. Generally speaking, insurance for someone working on residential is cheaper than commercial and someone working below three stories is cheaper than those working above. The Certificate of Insurance contains no information about the vendor's "classification". It could be disastrous to have someone working on a 12 story commercial project, while only classified to do residential work under three stories. The policy declaration page should list all exclusions and may very well list the classification, either by a numerical code or may actually spell out title of the code.
